

Agreement for CopyTrading service

1. The current agreement is an addition to the existing legal documents of Fort Financial Services read and accepted by all clients.
2. The section “CopyTrading” in Customer Trader’s Room on our website, fortfs.com, is designed to monitor trading results and translate trading signals on the basis of a purchase/ sale on the Master Account.
3. “CopyTrading” is available only to registered and verified users of Customer Trader’s Room on our website, fortfs.com, who accepted this agreement.
4. Master Account- a trading account to monitor trading operations for a public translation.
5. Trading signal- the act of purchase or sale on the Master Account. Hereafter- “the Signal”.
6. Translation of a trading signal - distribution of trading signal messages to subscribers.
7. Subscription- a public offer to receive Trading signals from a particular Master Account. Subscription is designed to copy trading signals from a Master Account to Subscriber’s personal trading account. The subscriber individually decides whether to subscribe to one or another Master Account.
8. Subscriber- a verified user of Customer Trader’s Room on our website, fortfs.com, who subscribed to receive Trading signals through “CopyTrading”. Every user may subscribe to more than one Master Account. Each trading account can be subscribed to only one Master Account.
9. Rating- a separate page on our website, fortfs.com, that contains the necessary information about Master Accounts available for subscription. Subscription is only available after viewing the Rating from the user’s verified Customer’s Trader’s Room on our website, fortfs.com.
10. Company- in addition to the existing definition, this is the company Fort Financial Services which offers the service “CopyTrading” for its intended purpose. Hereafter- “the Company”.
11. The sale of subscription is only allowed to registered and verified users of a Customer Trader’s Room on our website, fortfs.com, who accepted these terms and conditions and opened the corresponding Master Account.
12. To obtain the status of a “Master Account”, the user must pass a separate registration process of his/hers existing trading account using the terms and forms provided by the Company in the Customer Trader's Room on our website, fortfs.com.

13. The minimum deposit required to create a Master Account is 100 USD excluded bonus funds which must be made by the client before creating a Master Account. The balance of the account to be registered as a Master Account must be more or equal to 100 USD bonus fund excluded.
14. 1Subscription means that the subscriber acknowledges all risks and takes full responsibility for copying third party trading operations on his/her trading account. The subscriber confirms that he/she has the right to perform trading operations on the account on which Trading signals will be used.
15. The Company reserves the right to delete a Master Account from the "CopyTrading" service without explaining the reason.
16. The Company does not guarantee profits from the use of the offered Trading signals.
17. The amount necessary for subscription is the recommended minimum deposit amount and does not guarantee the successful copying of all Signals from a Master Account as well as it does not exclude the possibility of a Stop Out on subscriber's account. Each subscriber must individually monitor his/her account using the "CopyTrading" service.
18. In case of insufficient "Free Margin" in the account of the Subscriber to open position according to the trading signals, this position will not be opened on the Subscriber's account. In this case, the Subscriber will get the email message and subscription will be suspended. Current positions on the trading account, if there are any, will not be closed. The client can manage these positions by himself.
19. To subscribe to a Master Account the subscriber must follow the instructions and the forms shown in the Customer Trader's Room on our website, fortfs.com.
20. To cancel a Subscription, the subscriber must follow the forms and instructions shown in the corresponding section of the Customer Trader's Room on our website, fortfs.com.
21. The cost of Subscription is set by the owner of the Master Account and is charged every 30 days from the subscriber's USD current account. In case there are no funds on subscriber's USD current account, the Subscription will not be prolonged.
22. The owner of the subscribed Master Account will receive his/her payment every 30 days since the start of Subscription and only if the minimum trading volume in standard lots calculated by the formula "Subscription price in USD/10" was completed. In case the minimum trading volume was not completed the paid Subscription, amount is returned to subscriber's USD current account.

23. The Company charges 10% commission on each Subscription on completion of the minimum trading volume on the Master Account.
24. For a Master Account to participate in the rating, a minimum trading volume indicated on the rating requirements page on our website, fortfs.com, must be completed.
25. If a Master Account is deactivated, then new Subscriptions will not be allowed, and the existing Subscriptions will not be renewed automatically.
26. To automatically reactivate a Master Account the user must resume the required trading activity.
27. Every user of “CopyTrading” must comply with all company regulations and rules including verification requirements and the “Know Your Client” policy. If any of the Company rules or regulations are breached, then the corresponding user will be forcibly disconnected from the “CopyTrading” service. In such cases, the company reserves the right to cancel all financial and trading operations of the user as well as adjust the amount of financial obligations to the user. All possible losses are fully passed on to the user.
28. The Company reserves the right to reject the registration of a Master Account without explaining the reason.
29. The Company reserves the right to, at any point, exclude a Master Account from the rating, fully deactivate a Master account and cancel all existing Subscriptions of that account without explaining the reason.
30. Everyone using the “CopyTrading” service is allowed to register only one profile. In case of multiple registrations, the Company reserves the right to fully deactivate all or several profiles, Master Accounts, Subscriber’s accounts and subscriptions related to these profiles. All trading positions will be closed at market price, financial transactions may be adjusted or canceled unilaterally by the Company and all possible losses are fully passed on to the user.
31. When Subscribing to a Master Account the subscriber fully accepts and acknowledges all risks from copying third party’s trading operations to his/her trading account:
  - Past successful trading of a selected Master Account does not guarantee profit in the future.
  - Execution / non-execution of Trading signals can lead to a discrepancy between Subscriber results and the results of the Master Account.
  - All positions on the account will be opened like a standard trade order and will be opened at the current market price. The opening price for position that is copied to the account of a Subscriber may differ from the price at which the trading position (trading signal) has been executed on the Master Account.

- Pending orders, Stop Loss and Take Profit from the Master Account will not be copied to the Subscriber account. The execution of these orders on the Master account leads to the execution of a trading signal and the formation of the order to open or to close the corresponding position on the subscriber account according to the current market price.
  - The difference between trading conditions on subscriber account and those on the Master Account may lead to impossibility of Trading signals execution and getting other results between of the Master Account.
  - The copy execution of a Trading signal is composed of generating an appropriate trading order on the subscription account, and the actual transaction of its current market price, which may differ from the filled price on the Master Account.
  - The copy execution of Trading signal may take up to 60 seconds. The Company makes every effort to ensure that the time of execution of Trading signal is minimal.
32. The Company is not responsible for any resulted losses or partially received profit from the use or the impossibility to use the “CopyTrading” service.
33. The Company reserves the right to forcibly disconnect the Master Account and revise the Company’s financial obligations towards the user if the following is committed while using the “CopyTrading” service:
- Copying, selling, distribution, transmission or other actions aimed to use the “CopyTrading” service off-label, without clear business reason, or with the reason that does not match the CopyTrade original service missions, unless, otherwise stated by the Company.
  - Use the “CopyTrading” service to access, copy, transfer, transcode or retransmit any information violating of any law or third-party rights.
  - Reproduce, copy, sell, exchange and resale the content of the “CopyTrading” service. Exceptions are the cases that regulated with a separate agreement with the Company.
  - Actions discrediting the honor, dignity and the reputation of the Company or any of its employees.
  - Contradictory actions to the common market and economic principles. The level of contradiction is determined by the Company.

- Any other actions breaching the Company's regulations, rules and agreements.
